

May Ponderings

It is unfortunate that I start this writing with the news that four of our members have passed away in the recent weeks. They will be missed by all. Our thoughts are with their families and friends.

There are some new courses available. Italian for beginners and Card Making. Keep the ideas for courses coming.

Our Choir are giving a performance with the new conductor Heather Wickes and pianist Jill Linley. Thursday June 22nd 10.30 to 11.30am. Uniting Church 16 High Street Frankston (Melway 100A A9) GOLD COIN DONATION.

2023 Frankston Seniors Festival is approaching in October. We will need volunteers to assist. We will run an open day at Karingal Place and hopefully an art display. Planning needs to start now. If you are available to assist you will be most welcome.

Are members interested in sewing / quilting etc. We have 2/3 sewing machines and materials to use, will need a tutor/facilitator.

Hope all is well with you and yours.

I hate hotel towels. So thick and fluffy. I can't close my suitcase.

Do you ever look at your friends and think.....WOW, we are gonna be some weird , but soooo much fun old people someday.
